PREFATORY NOTICE REGARDING THE COLLECTION OF THE REV. DR. OSCAR HAYWOOD

FOR MANY YEARS PASTOR OF THE BAPTIST CHURCH OF THE COVENANT OF NEW YORK CITY

The collection of Association Books, Inscribed Copies, First Editions, Manuscripts, Autograph Letters and Signed Photographs of Noted Actors and Authors described in the following pages is one of unusual interest. Although collected by Dr. Haywood as a source of recreation and diversion, the same contains many choice items of association interest and value, while the collection of INSCRIBED BOOKS AND AUTOGRAPH LETTERS BY JAMES WHITCOMB RILEY IS THE MOST IMPORTANT ONE THAT HAS EVER BEEN OFFERED AT PUBLIC SALE IN AMERICA.

The greater number of the books are First Editions by American and English Authors, many with autograph inscription, or with signature or letter by the author inserted. They include, besides the Riley items, several of the more important First Editions of OSCAR WILDE, "O. HENRY" (SYDNEY W. PORTER), SAMUEL L. CLEMENS, COLONEL ROBERT G. INGERSOLL, RUDYARD KIPLING, and other writers.

Besides the books there are important ORIGINAL MANUSCRIPTS AND AUTOGRAPH LETTERS by several of the authors represented in this collection, among which the UNPUBLISHED AUTO-BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCH BY "MARK TWAIN," AND THE "O. HENRY" LETTER ARE OF THE GREATEST INTEREST.

The collection of Photographs and portraits includes several fine items, noteworthy among them being the ORIGINAL PENCIL SKETCH OF OSCAR WILDE, WITH HIS AUTOGRAPH INSCRIPTION, AND THE ORIGINAL WASHDRAWING OF MARSHALL P. WILDER BY THOMAS HARDY.

Among the more noteworthy items are the following,—

ALDRICH (Thomas Bailey). Autographed Copy of the FIRST EDITION of "The Ballad of Babie Bell." [No. 4]

ALLEN (James Lane). Autographed Copies of Various Works, and the ORIGINAL MANUSCRIPT OF "John Gray." [Nos. 6 to 11]

AUSTIN (Alfred). Autograph Manuscript of his Poem "The Evening Light." [No. 15]

AUTOGRAPH Album, containing the signatures of President Tyler, Members of the Cabinet, the Senate and House of Representatives, etc. ILLUMINATED COPY. [No. 16]

BEECHER (Henry Ward). Original Manuscript Statement regarding Mrs. Tilton. [No. 28]

BROWNING (Robert). Works. AUTOGRAPH EDITION. 12 vols. [No. 35]

BRYANT (William Cullen). Autographed Copy of his "Poems." 1865. [No. 38]

BURROUGHS (John). Various Autographed Editions of his Works. [Nos. 41 to 46]

BYRON (George Gordon, Lord). Extra-Illustrated Copy of English Bards, the LARGE PAPER American edition. [No. 47]

- CABLE (George W.). Various Autographed Copies of his Works. [Nos. 49 to 54]
- CARMAN (Bliss). Various FIRST EDITIONS, some inscribed by the author. [Nos. 56 to 58]
- CHAMBERS (Robert W.). Inscribed autograph Copies of his works. [Nos. 60 to 62]
- CLEMENS (Samuel Langhorne). Various FIRST EDITIONS of his works, some with his Autograph or an Autograph letter by him inserted, also the ORIGINAL UNPUBLISHED MANUSCRIPT OF HIS AUTO-BIOGRAPHY. [Nos. 63 to 81]
- CRAWFORD (Captain Jack). Author's Autographed Copy of the FIRST EDITION of "The Poet Scout." With an ORIGINAL POEM. [No. 90]
- DICKENS (Charles). Our Mutual Friend. IN PARTS. [No. 98]
- DRAMATIC Books, Photographs, etc., some inscribed. [Nos. 102 to 110]
- FIELD (Eugene). FIRST EDITION of "Love Songs of Childhood," with fine autograph inscription by the author. [No. 114]
- HARDY (Thomas). FIRST EDITIONS of his works, some inscribed by him; also Original Drawing. [Nos. 127 to 130]
- INGERSOLL (Robert G.). Various Works, some inscribed by him, including the VERY RARE "Testimonial to Walt Whitman." [Nos. 148 to 152]
- IRVING (Washington). Extra-Illustrated Copy of Irvingiana. [No. 155]
- KIPLING (Rudyard). Various FIRST EDITIONS of his Works, including some of the editions issued in limited number for copyright purposes. [Nos. 164 to 179]
- LINCOLN (Abraham). Document in Lincoln's autograph, portraits, etc. [Nos. 184 to 186]
- MARKHAM (Edwin). Author's Inscribed copies of two of his works. [Nos. 195 to 197]
- "O. HENRY" [Sydney W. Porter]. Various Works, FIRST EDITIONS; also a Charming Autograph Letter. [Nos. 204 to 216]
- PAGE (Thomas Nelson). Autographed Copies of several of his works. [Nos. 217 to 219]
- RILEY (James Whitcomb). Various Autograph Letters and FIRST EDITIONS of his works, nearly all of the latter with fine AUTOGRAPH INSCRIPTION BY HIM. THIS IS THE MOST EXTENSIVE COLLECTION OF INSCRIBED BOOKS AND LETTERS OF THE "HOOSIER" POET EVER OFFERED AT PUBLIC SALE IN AMERICA. [Nos. 229 to 275]
- STEVENSON (Robert Louis). Various Works. FIRST EDITIONS. [Nos. 296 to 299]
- WILDE (OSCAR). First Editions of some of his works, several autographed and inscribed by the author, Autograph Letters, and an ORIGINAL UNPUBLISHED PENCIL SKETCH WITH HIS AUTOGRAPH INSCRIPTION. [Nos. 322 to 347]
- WILSON (Woodrow). Author's Autographed Copies of some of his works, and a fine two-page AUTOGRAPH LETTER. [Nos. 352 to 355]

Conditions of Sale

1. Any bid which is merely a nominal or fractional advance may be rejected by the auctioneer, if, in his judgment, such bid would be likely to affect the sale injuriously.

2. The highest bidder shall be the buyer, and if any dispute arise between two or more bidders, the auctioneer shall either decide the same or put up for re-sale the lot so in dispute.

3. Payment shall be made of all or such part of the purchase money as may be required, and the names and addresses of the purchasers shall be given immediately on the sale of every lot, in default of which the lot so purchased shall be immediately put up again and re-sold.

Payment of that part of the purchase money not made at the time of sale, shall be made within ten days thereafter, in default of which the undersigned may either continue to hold the lots at the risk of the purchaser and take such action as may be necessary for the enforcement of the sale, or may at public or private sale, and without other than this notice, re-sell the lots for the benefit of such purchaser, and the deficiency (if any) arising from such re-sale, shall be a charge against such purchaser.

4. Delivery of any purchase will be made only upon payment of the total amount due for all purchases at the sale.

Deliveries will be made on sales days between the hours of 9 A. M. and 1 P. M., and on other days—except holidays—between the hours of 9 A. M. and 5 P. M.

Delivery of any purchase will be made only at the American Art Galleries, or other place of sale, as the case may be, and only on presenting the bill of purchase.

Delivery may be made, at the discretion of the Association, of any purchase during the session of the sale at which it was sold.

5. Shipping, boxing or wrapping of purchases is a business in which the Association is in no wise engaged, and will not be performed by the Association for purchasers. The Association will, however, afford to purchasers every facility for employing at current and reasonable rates carriers and packers; doing so, however, without any assumption of responsibility on its part for the acts and charges of the parties engaged for such service.

6. Storage of any purchase shall be at the sole risk of the purchaser. Title passes upon the fall of the auctioneer's hammer, and thereafter, while the Association will exercise due caution in caring for and delivering such purchase, it will not hold itself responsible if such purchase be lost, stolen, damaged or destroyed.

Storage charges will be made upon all purchases not removed within ten days from the date of the sale thereof.

7. Guarantee is not made either by the owner or the Association of the correctness of the description, genuineness or authenticity of any lot, and no sale will be set aside on account of any incorrectness, error of cataloguing, or any imperfection not noted. Every lot is on public exhibition one or more days prior to its sale, after which it is sold "as is" and without recourse.

The Association exercises great care to catalogue every lot correctly, and will give consideration to the opinion of any trustworthy expert to the effect that any lot has been incorrectly catalogued, and, in its judgment, may either sell the lot as catalogued or make mention of the opinion of such expert who thereby would become responsible for such damage as might result were his opinion without proper foundation.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

Buying or bidding by the Association for responsible parties on orders transmitted to it by mail, telegraph or telephone, will be faithfully attended to without charge or commission. Any purchase so made will be subject to the above Conditions of Sale, which cannot in any manner be modified. The Association, however, in the event of making a purchase of a lot consisting of one or more books for a purchaser who has not, through himself or his agent, been present at the exhibition or sale, will permit such lot to be returned within ten days from the date of sale, and the purchase money will be returned, if the lot in any material manner differs from its catalogue description.

Orders for execution by the Association should be written and given with such plainness as to leave no room for misunderstanding. Not only should the lot number be given, but also the title, and bids should be stated to be so much for the lot, and when the lot consists of one or more volumes of books or objects of art, the bid per volume or piece should also be stated. If the one transmitting the order is unknown to the Association, a deposit should be sent or reference submitted. Shipping directions should also be given.

Priced copies of the catalogue of any sale, or any session thereof, will be furnished by the Association at a reasonable charge.

49. CABLE (GEORGE W.). Dr. Sevier. 12mo, original cloth.
Boston, 1885

5. FIRST EDITION. With a seven-line AUTOGRAPH QUOTATION BY THE AUTHOR, with signature, dated Feby. 1915, on fly-leaf,—“But a man must live said one of his kindred,” etc.

50. CABLE (GEORGE W.). A.L.S., 7pp. 8vo. Headed, “A Reply,” and addressed “Editor Century.” [1886]

5. This is Cable's reply to Mr. Orr and ex-Senator Johnson's criticisms of his articles on “Comparative Criminality of the blacks and whites in the Northern and Southern States,” which appeared in the Century in May 1886. Shows the errors in which both his critics have fallen in computing their statistics from wrong tables. Regarding race-prejudice he writes,—“Moreover I find but half a million dark sufferers from this error in all the North. There are twelve times that number in the south.” last led me to think that she had been serious & quite hopelessly stricken down . . .

"You see we are removed to Cumberland, & we live here the most quiet and secluded life . . . I hear nothing of Miss Bland excepting what I see in the newspapers, & I rejoice at her success. Our dear grand William seems in no respect changed since the hour I met him first. He is a thoroughly good fellow & wears well as a friend. Watts seems quite gone from my reckoning, 'm sorry to say, for except Gabriel he was the first of my friends in London. You'll know that Sharp has gone to Rome. It will be an added pleasure to you that Shields is now your neighbour . . ."

Samuel L. Clemens

Samuel Langhorne Clemens.

Born in Florida, Mo., Nov. 30, 1835.

Son of John Marshall Clemens, of Virginia, & Jane Lamberton of Kentucky. An ancestor (Jeffrey Clement), was ambassador to Spain under Charles I., married a Spanish wife & introduced a strain of Spanish blood into the Clemens stock which shows up in now & then in a descendant yet. (Clara is an instance.) This Clement sat as one of Charles's judges on the trial that rendered the death-verdict.

The Lambertons still ^{possess} ~~occupy~~ in England the lands occupied by their ancestors.

63. CLEMENS (SAMUEL LANGHORNE). ORIGINAL UNPUBLISHED HOLOGRAPH MANUSCRIPT OF AN AUTO-BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCH BY "MARK TWAIN." 14pp. 8vo. (About 1800 words.) Enclosed in a cloth cover with protecting ends.

A CLEMENS MANUSCRIPT OF UNUSUAL INTEREST AND VALUE, AND A HIGHLY IMPORTANT BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCH OF THIS NOTED AMERICAN WRITER, indeed the most important authentic autobiographical sketch of this celebrated humorist extant. The manuscript is entirely in his autograph, and was never published, although a very limited number of privately printed transcripts were made on deckle-edge paper, consisting of a four-leaf folder, printed on seven pages, the first leaf with watermark "Mark Twain." We are unable to state just how many of these transcripts were made, but according to the present owner not over 17 or 18 were ever printed. SIXTEEN OF THESE PRINTED TRANSCRIPTS accompany this manuscript, and are sold with the same.

The original manuscript contains the following caption, which does not appear in the printed form, the latter having nothing to identify the authorship of the same,—

"[Mrs. Clemens wishes you to ask Sam Moffett, my nephew (editor New York Journal) to write the biographical sketch from these notes, & then she would like to see it before it is printed.]" Signed,—"S. L. C."

The following are short extracts taken from the manuscript,—

"S. L. Clemens was educated in the common school at Hannibal, and in his brother's newspaper office . . . He ran away in 1853 and visited the World's Fair in New York . . . He was in New Orleans when Louisiana went out of the Union . . . In June he joined the Confederates in Ralls County, Mo., as a second lieutenant, under General Tom Harris, and came near having the distinction of being captured by Colonel Ulysses S. Grant . . . Mark Twain and Mr. Laird, editor of the Virginia 'Union,' got into a newspaper quarrel and a duel was appointed . . . an accident caused Mr. Laird to withdraw and apologise . . . Mark Twain took service of the San Francisco 'Morning Call,' . . . In 1869 he entered the lecture field and traversed the eastern and western states . . . In the beginning of February, 1870, he was married to Miss Olivia L. Langdon . . . In October he removed to Hartford, Conn. . . . In 1872, Susan Olivia Clemens was born . . . In 1886-89 Mark Twain spent a large sum of money on a type-setting machine which was a failure . . . present in the Austrian Reichsrath on the memorable occasion when the House was invaded by sixty policemen and sixteen refractory members dragged roughly out . . . "

37.5 204. "O. HENRY" [SYDNEY W. PORTER]. Cabbages and Kings. 12mo, original cloth, lower margins uncut. New York, 1904
FIRST EDITION. EXCEEDINGLY SCARCE.

205. "O. HENRY" [SYDNEY W. PORTER]. A.L.S., 12pp. 8vo. Saturday (sometime towards the end of September, 1905. To Ethel Lloyd Patterson).

This is Porter's letter in answer to the second letter by "A Woman" (Ethel Lloyd Patterson, later called by Porter, "Miss Terry"). The correspondence having been started by Porter's "Personal" in the "New York Herald" of September 10, 1905, which read,—

"Two neighborly 'literary fellows,' 35 and 30, seek social acquaintance of two intelligent, attractive and unconventional ladies interested in artistic ideas, with a view to mutual improvement and entertainment. Omar. 116 Herald."

8/10. This "Personal" was answered by Miss Patterson, on September 10, 1905. Porter's reply to her letter, sent by him Sept. 17, 1905, enclosed his photograph and visiting card. Miss Patterson's reply of September 22, still left her identity in the dark, in consequence of which Porter penned the above letter, in which he gives an account of himself and his personal appearance, and appoints a place of meeting. To this letter Miss Patterson never replied, and it was not till two years later that Porter became acquainted with the name of his unknown correspondent.

The entire correspondence relating to this charming Bohemian episode is revealed by Miss Patterson in her article appearing in "Everybody's Magazine" of February, 1914, a copy of which number accompanies the present letter.

WRITTEN IN INK, AND CONTAINING ABOUT 1200 WORDS, THIS LETTER IS THE MOST IMPORTANT AUTOGRAPHED LETTER OF "O. HENRY" EVER OFFERED AT PUBLIC SALE.

Goodness me! Did you really come from the bronco country, or was that only a figure of speech? If you did I can talk your language. Don't you know that you are always safe in approaching the camp fire of a Texan?

I would have been disappointed, Oh, mysterious "A woman", if you had revealed yourself and given me permission to "call". I'm glad you didn't do that. There are but wireless signals through space. Why should they be spoiled by a "call"? Why should I add to the awful tedium of ^{your} life by

FIRST EDITION limited to 125 copies, of which this is number 13.

"The letters in this story are real letters. I know this because they were written to me by the man the world knows as O. Henry, author, and only as the author. Not half a dozen people knew the real Sydney Porter, and the man was greater than the author.

40. "There are other letters which are mine own, and no other eyes shall see them. But the letters in this book were not written to me as a woman, but rather to the little girl of his memory who lived next door to him in the street of Yesterday.

"The background for the letters is pure fiction. Maybe I have let more of myself creep into this tale than I had planned. If this be true, the reason is that my whole thought centred upon revealing Sydney Porter to the lovers of O. Henry."—FOREWORD.

229. RILEY (JAMES WHITCOMB) . A.L.S., 2pp. 8vo, in pencil. "Greenfield, Ind., April 4, '79." To "Mr. A. H. Dooley." With addressed envelope. 2 pieces.

Interesting letter relating to the publication of one of his prose sketches in "The Argo," a literary journal published by Mr. Dooley. Reads in part,—

". . . You wrote in regard to your intention of reproducing in your paper the prose sketch of mine, 'The Boss Girl.' Your compliment regarding it when you wrote, together with the handsome notice that headed it in The Argo, I can assure you were most warmly appreciated. . . . I have been greatly interested in your paper since its advent and I extend to you my heartiest congratulations upon its real merits as a literary journal, the high worth of its original contributions, and its clear typographical appearance as well."

A post-script, signed with Riley's initials states that the reason for the delay of Mr. Dooley's letter was the fact that his name was written "Wiley" instead of "Riley."

Accompanying the above is an advertisement card of "The Modern Argo."

230. RILEY (JAMES WHITCOMB). A.L.S., 1p. 8vo, in pencil. "Greenfield, Ind., Sept. 2. '79." To "A. H. Dooley" (of "The Argo"). Signed,—"J. W. Riley." With addressed envelope.

FINE LETTER, in answer to one by Mr. Dooley encouraging the "Hoosier" poet in his literary work, and the latter's contributions to "The Argo." Reads in part,— 15.

". . . With encouragement like these hearty words of yours, the 'lonesome road' is peopled with kind faces, and the way dips down in shady vales and grassy lawns where one may rest with deep long breaths of thankfulness.

"I have worked hard, and am yet burdened heavily; but I intend to offer you my next ambitious poem. I have it in the rough now, and will rasp it down in a week or two at the farthest . . . my congratulations upon the success of your paper, and I never see it but with a thrill of pride to think the ripe old heart of it is 'Hoosier.' . . ."

A charming letter, reads in part.—

45. "It's all right about your report of the incidents of your visit to Miss Corry! Of course, we folks over here, however, are not yet so bald that you can see our brains. Go in fair and square and get the girl and bear her away on your snowy wings to your immortal home!—but don't try to throw us off the track, 'cause we just won't have it that way! Otherwise, if you do persist in this covert method of yours, I may be tempted to more tangibly rebuke you by jest a-takin' and a-turnin' in and carryin' off and marryin' the girl myself! Mind, too, I'd be very ably assisted in the undertaking—'cause her Kinsfolk here want me married off worse than they do you. . . ."

Poem on the death of Oscar McCulloch. 14 lines, commencing.—

35. *"What would best please our friend, in token of
The sense of our great loss? Our sighs and tears?
Nay, these he fought against through all his years,
Heroically voicing, high above
Grief's ceaseless minor, moaning like a dore,
The paeon triumphant that soldier hears
Scaling the walls of death, midst shouts and cheers,
The old flag laughing in his eyes' last lore."* etc.

"[From John C. Walker's 'Farewell To the Farm'.]"

250. RILEY (JAMES WHITCOMB). A.L.S., 2pp. 12mo. "Indianapolis, Ind., Sep. 5,-1892-" To "Th: Nast, Esq.—" (the celebrated cartoonist). With addressed envelope, (stamp torn off). Letter signed in full.

Fine letter, written on the receipt of one of Thomas Nast's sketches, reads, as follows,—

"Since the arrival, two days ago, of the Puritanic Masterpiece, 'The Landing of a Father,' with the typical Boston—Gentlemen Messrs. Philips and Butler in the foreground—though not so far in it as their just landed contemporary!—I've been too proudly and delightfully busy showing the picture to immediate friends and the general public to express my special thanks to you. Though attempting such a feat, even at the thought, I feel I should fail utterly: Too much is involved; for I should necessarily go back before the War even as the magic of your little sketch transports me—and begin my own youthful hopes and ambitions over again, even as then roused and quickened into newer, brighter spirit, and more daring mettle by your pictures. Nor would I neglect the acknowledgement of a certain art influence of yours that has not only been a constant pleasure to me since that far-off time; but has helped and blessed my efforts in an humbler yet somewhat kindred line. But I spare you all detail, certain that this mere suggestion will be far more gratefully received, rounded and perfected by you than pages of my stammering pen's elaboration.

"Wishing for you and your art every measure of success clean on to the rapturous attainment of the intrepid dream or fancy of your genius, etc."

251. RILEY (JAMES WHITCOMB). A.L.S., 1p. 8vo, "Indianapolis, Dec. 14, 1893." To "George C. Smith." Signed in full.

Letter of condolence on the death of the elder Mr. Smith. Reads in part,—

"... So may you find in your father's death, as I have found in mine, a firmer faith in the All-Father, and a reassurance of His good intent far beyond Earth's purest, dearest, sweetest hopes and prayers," with the following sentiment,—

"His dews drop mutely on the hill,
His cloud above it saileth still
Though on its slope men sow and reap:
More softly than the dew is shed,
Or cloud is floated overhead,
He gireth His beloved sleep."

An interesting and characteristic letter of the “Hoosier” Poet, reading in part,—

“... since years ago your child-heart was made manifest to me in a way at once so dewy-fresh and new and pure and lovable as to command at once my most artless admiration and affection. Then I had written very little, and knew, therefore next to nothing how to appreciate in verity your lovely art as well as heart. Now, by virtue ‘sad, mechanic exercise,’ I better know your worth, and love and reverence you more. Long since, too, I would have tried to frame some like message to you, but hoping still to come upon you personally I have with-held my pen—yearning ever for a hand-to-hand contact in which, I felt, only could I

"dress you down" to the full satisfaction of my inmost soul. When you were here last spring I also tried to find you. But a perverse list of circumstances conspired to counter every possible effort to that end. Simply it was not to be—then.—Our meeting is yet reserved, for some reason that will make the meeting all the happier when it latterly arrives. In this my faith is as a child's. So, ever I joyously look out for you."

Sep. 7: 1901."

267. RILEY (JAMES WHITCOMB). A.L.S., 2pp. 8vo. "Greenfield, Ind., June 19: 1901." To "John Habberton, Esq.—" (author of "Helen's Babies"). Written on his private monogram deckle-edge paper. Signed in full.

A charming letter, commending very highly Habberton's book on the Civil War. Reads as follows,—

50. "It's a mighty poor stiek of a mau trying to write you this—being away from my established home in Indianapolis where your good letter was addressd, finding me here at last though unaccompanied with the story it spoke of. That, however, I promptly sent for, and just now have finished it—most heartily applauding every page: And if I were to 'speak out in meetin' I doubt not but I should be found saying something to about this effect:—John Habberton's new story, 'When Boys were Men,' is quickened with the pulse, voice and force of life itself: Indeed the chronicle is veritable history—of the period of our great civil war,—so engagingly set down, and so fervidly, that its pages ring with the tangible romance of patriotic spirit and heroic deed. It is genuinely American, natively appealing to the youth of our beloved country—the boys who are yet to be (as were their noble sires) the soldiers and the Saviors of our land."

322. WILDE (OSCAR). Bust-Portrait. ORIGINAL PENCIL SKETCH, WITH AUTOGRAPH INSCRIPTION BY OSCAR WILDE. In frame with detachable back.

A faithful picture of Oscar Wilde, beautifully executed by an unknown hand. This sketch shows Wilde as he must have appeared at the "Trinity Term" period, 1878, when he took a First Class in the "Honour Finals" at Oxford, and before he had adopted those eccentricities of costume which a few years later attracted universal attention to his person. The head is in profile, three-quarters to right, with hair, not too long, brushed back from forehead. Such part of the bust as is visible shows a turned down collar and the tracings of the collar of an ordinary ulster which he wore at this period.

The inscription, which is in his own handwriting, reads,—

"Yours
Oscar
Wilde
Magdalen 1878."

[See Reproduction]

331. WILDE (OSCAR). The Picture of Dorian Gray. Small 4to, full red levant morocco, back lettered, gilt edges, BY MORLY BROS. OXFORD. London: Ward Loek and Co., 1891

20. A BEAUTIFUL COPY OF THE LARGE PAPER ISSUE, of which only 250 copies were printed. AUTOGRAPHED BY THE AUTHOR, AND NUMBERED BY HIM. FIRST EDITION with the revised text, which has here been extended to twenty chapters. The most sought after edition of "Dorian Gray."

332. WILDE (OSCAR). The Picture of Dorian Gray. 12mo, half red levant moroceo, gilt top. London: Ward Loek and Co. [1891]

out. FIRST PUBLISHED EDITION.

333. WILDE (OSCAR). A.L.S., 4pp. 16mo, "New Travellers Club, Piccadilly, W. 16 Tite Street S.W." No date, but post-mark on envelope bears year date "92." To E. W. Pratt. With addressed envelope.

12. Of unusual interest. The writer denies the authorship of the book entitled "Dorian Gray." Reads as follows,—"The book 'Dorian Gray' is one of the many books I have never written—but it is partly suggested by Huysman's 'A Rebours,' which you will get at any French bookseller's. It is a fantastic variation of Huysman's over-realistic study of the artistic temperament in our inartistic age."

345. WILDE (OSCAR). A.L.S., 7pp. 8vo, "16. Tite Street, Chelsea, S.W." To Mrs. Howe.
A letter of unusual length and interest, asking Mrs. Julia Ward Howe to contribute something on the Women of America to "The Woman's World," a magazine of which he had just been made editor. Reads in part, as follows,—
"I have been asked by Messrs. Cassell & Co., the publishers to edit one of their monthly magazines and am anxious to make it the recognized organ through which women of culture and position will express their views. . . . Will you allow me to add your name to my list of contributors, and write me a short article. . . . Some account of the remarkable development of the intellectual life of women in America would be most interesting, though as one of the leaders in the movement you may perhaps feel some difficulty about such a subject. Still, if you would not object, it is what would interest English women immensely. . . ."

Sale Wednesday Afternoon, March 13th
